7 Glimpses of Utopia

June 21, at 7:30 p.m., at The National Center for the Preservation of Democracy, located 111 North Central Avenue (on 1st Street & Central Avenue, across from the Japanese American National Museum), Los Angeles, CA 90012.

"7 Glimpses of Utopia" is part of the Skid Row based theater group, Los Angeles Poverty Department's, project UTOPIA/dystopia. UTOPIA/dystopia, seeks to find out how flesh and blood people living and working downtown envision the future of downtown and what kind of downtown they would like to be a part of.

Tonight's performance event is "7 Glimpses of Utopia". It takes the form of a Come Together, a community performance strategy conceived by UTOPIA/dystopia collaborating artist Harrell Fletcher. LAPD'ers and others were asked to identify and invite someone they knew who was doing something laudable, and important, something that represents the best of the current and future downtown.

The people invited were asked to do a 10 minute presentation, in any form they see as appropriate, about what they are doing to downtown and how they would like to see the future of downtown evolve. The presentations could be a performance, a demonstration or a lecture. The presentations happen back to back, combining the insight and passion of both inviters and presenters. Taken all together, they come together to create a performance that provides "7 Glimpses of Utopia".

Tonight's performance event is the second event of UTOPIA/dystopia. The first event, a panel conversation and film screening of the award-winning documentary on LAPD, "The Real Deal", took place in April as part of the LA Central Library's Aloud Series. The next UTOPIA/dystopia event is again at the National Center for the Preservation of Democracy, on Sunday July 22 from 2 to 4 pm. It is planned as a panel discussion and community conversation on the subject of affordable housing. It's tentatively titled: "Affordable Housing: What, Where and for Whom?"

PRESENTERS A little about me, my name is Henry Proctor and I was born in Virginia but lived most of my life in Florida. I spent most of my professional time in the food service industry. I worked as a banquet chef and traveled the Southeastern United States. I am also a recovering substance abuser, clean for 2 years. I want to foster an atmosphere of support here in the Skid Row area, and I have an idea that works with veterans as a small group of underserved Americans. Mila Franzoni is Italian and Native American, and has been involved in yoga and different spiritual practices around the United States. His father was a philosopher of note, and he is committed to helping here in this area.

Henry will talk about his work, his personal transformation, and he and Mila will talk about the program he envisions that will get people out of poverty, not keep them trapped in it. He would like to get the ear of Donald Sterling, so that this concept could be effective as a program at the new homeless facility Sterling is planning for San Pedro street.

SELECTOR John Malpede is a theater director and actor. He founded the Los Angeles Poverty Department in 1985. From 1985 through 1999, he worked on Skid Row as an outreach paralegal with the Legal Aid Foundation of Los Angeles. With the assistance of Sea Jay Films, he has created a DVD of Peace N Hood and is currently writing a screen play adapted from the Neo-Novel coloring book.

While art of various mediums continue to be his passion, OG MAN believes in community involvement and being of service. He is a founding member and the official spokesperson for OG's N SERVICE ASSOCIATION, which is dedicated to uplifting the men of Skid Row through "Self Help" and improving the lives of children living on Skid Row. Most of all, he's a proud father of eight children and a grandfather. For more info: ogskidrogallery@yahoo.com

Ms. Croom has an extensive background in community substance abuse and community building. "I am inspired by Compito because of his raw talent, his tenacity, and perseverance, and above all because of his ability to make celebratory events happen on the row, without benefit of qualitative research, political will or resources. He reminds me that all life is worth celebrating."

She has always opened her own business with no money. She found a very beautiful and expensive homeless cat with silver colored fur in front of the bank on the day that she went there to ask for a loan. The bank keeper told her he had no money for her and now she has two pairs of cats: the father at home and the son in the shop. She started her business on Skid Row in July last year because she likes to be in a place where all kinds of different people live together.
